

Disputed Non-Reporting Items

You disputed the item(s) listed below. However, they are not currently reporting on your Equifax credit report. We recommend contacting the reporting company directly. You may also check with the other nationwide credit reporting agencies (Experian and TransUnion) to see if they are reporting the below information.

Most common reasons why some information may not be listed on your Equifax credit report:

- Reporting Practices: Not all lenders and creditors report to all three nationwide credit reporting agencies.
- Time Limitations: Accounts, particularly those that are closed or contain negative information, are removed from your credit report after a specific period.
- Previous Requests: Some information may have already been removed if a previous dispute was submitted to the lender, creditor, or other nationwide credit reporting agency.

What else should I know?

If there has been a change to your credit report based on your dispute, or if you add a consumer statement, you may request that Equifax send an updated report to companies who received your credit report within the last two years for employment purposes, or within the last six months for any other purpose.

(the past 12 months for residents of California, Colorado, Maryland, New York and New Jersey residents).

As always, we thank you for contacting Equifax and the results of your dispute are on the pages following this letter.

To better assist you with understanding the results of your dispute, please review the information below:

- If an item states "Deleted", we have removed it from your credit report and taken steps so it does not reappear.
- If an item states "Verified as Reported", the reporting company has certified it is reporting accurately.
- If an item states "Updated", we have updated one or more fields on the item based on information received from the reporting company.
